

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN? (ENGLISH)

As some of you have read visions in the past years from the nuke from the middle east to Russia, then one back to the middle east then one will come to America as a warning when to retreat with Great Britain and India turning red, to natural disasters increasing larger and larger to a point where financial aid and assistance will go bankrupt yet people will keep rebuilding, and insurance rates will rise sky high. To California having a devastating blow to where it will shake humanity in a way never before seen, to Atlanta, Washington D.C., and NYC in utter destruction and enemies attacking. You may ask "is this true?" And "Is this biblical?" I open up Zephaniah 1 which correlated with REVELATION and other books... But When will these things occur? I don't know, Recently in a vision I seen a fallen star from heaven, bright and beautiful rising up over the waters between Britain and the U.S...All of NYC praised it and the nations in amazement. It was filled with riches, abundance of riches, and in the people's eyes and hands I could see written all their earnings and riches, the stock market soured at a rate never seen before. People worshipped the one who helped increase the stock market(could it be the feds lower rates)? At a height of prosperity, abundance of wealth, people buying materialisms, loving and enjoying their life, jobs and success, captivated by materialisms and wealth, sin and pleasures, with churches also stuck in amazement by this I mouthed dropped open, eyes gazed and foggy. (The world was drunk) Then I seen the star burst, in an instant everything shattered and total chaos and Destruction erupted. Peace no more, luxuries no more, riches no more, fear and pannick erupted. Yet God's small remnant of people were at peace. God told me "The time is coming, it will happen" so note when you see the stock market rise at all time records, and riches and prosperity rising, everyone buying houses and cars, enjoying entertainment, businesses booming, the nations prospering, people enjoying their life on social media almost seemingly in sync, peace has arisen, laughter and happiness seems to be the staple of life. Be ready! Be even now For we no not the time or hour, we no not when we will die nor live. Choose life and live holy! Be careful not to let your heart and mind be captivated by the CARES of this life. Yes including your job, savings, riches, etc. The time is coming where all will perish. Even those who thought they had faith was not faith for they've shriek with fear. Make sure you are using this time to grow close with God, pray, read, integrate his word into your heart. Enjoy and take pleasure in his word and time with him. Delight in his glory and majesty...Shalom
